

Bath Brief.

by Alumax Bath Enclosures

A bi-monthly report of news and trends in the Bath Enclosure Industry as a service to our customers.

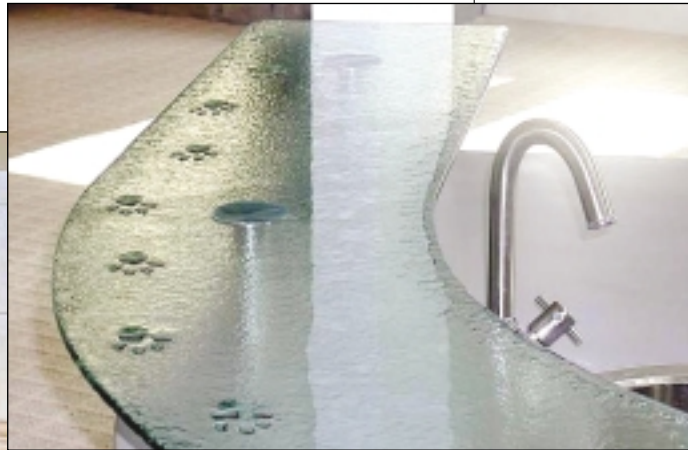

Vol. 1 No. 3

May - June 2001

Alumax Bath Enclosures has collaborated with Artwork in Architectural Glass (AAG) to offer our customers bath enclosures featuring the finest in Architectural Art Glass, or "Slumped Glass".

Among the many amenities of slumped glass, perhaps the most to use with standard glass, it can be colored, painted, sand blasted or frosted.

The bottom-line is, Slumped glass can be used in almost any application in which standard glass can be used to produce beautiful and elegant results.

Slumped Glass

What is Slumped Glass? Also known as "Cast" or "Sag" glass, Slumped glass is kiln fired glass that conforms to custom designed hand-made molds, producing unique and elegant molded glass creations for your bath enclosure which can be carried over to your window, vanity top or mirror frame.

Alumax Bath Enclosure Slumped glass panels are tempered and will accommodate our maximum sizes. 1/8" to 3/4" thicknesses are available.

desirable features to our bath enclosure customers are; Slumped glass installs as easily as regular glass, it can be configured to accommodate almost any hardware that is suitable

Contact your Alumax Service Center or Customer Service Representative for availability and pricing.

Article courtesy of Artwork in Architectural Glass

